DABNEY MADE PRESIDENT AT SENIOR ELECTION

Class of '20 Chooses Officers in Chapel Monday; Frizzy and Haffler Prove Favorites

CORDUOYS REVIVED

The election of officers of the Senior Class was held in Chapel Monday afternoon at 3:30, Ed Parker, ex-President of the Class, presiding. Ed. Dabney, was elected President and Mary Turner, Vice-President.

Since neither the track manager nor the cheer leader, who were elected from the Junior Class last Spring, returned to school, Parks Boone, Senior in the College of Engineering, was elected and Wayne Haffler, who won recognition two years ago as a capable cheer leader who knew how to arouse "pep," was again chosen for the ensuing year.

The President, Ed. Dabney, Senior in the College of Law and a member of the A. T. O. Fraternity, was elected by acclamation. Dabney expressed his appreciation of the honor conferred upon him and assured the class that he would at all times do his best for the interests of the class. He took charge of the meeting and the following officers were elected:

Vice-President—Miss Mary Turner, College of Agriculture.

Secretary—Miss Dorothy Middleton, College of Agriculture.

Treasurer—Everett Eise, College of Engineering.

Class Orator—Emery Frazier, College of Law.

Prophet—Miss Louise Will, College of Arts and Science.

Historian—Miss Margaret Woll, College of Arts and Science.

Poet—James Dixon, College of Arts and Science.

Grumbler—U. V. Garred, College of Engineering.

Giftorian—Tom Gorman, College of Engineering.

As the Athletic Association had suggested that a man be elected to put pep into the rallies held in Chapel and on the ball grounds, Emery Frazier was elected to fill the place.

It was then suggested that certain old traditions of the Senior Class be revived and a motion was made and carried that at the first football game of the season the Senior men "bosom forth in corduroys, canes and what mustaches can be raised in that length of time" and that the Senior women, "the fairest flowers of the land," come out clad in trim corduroy skirts, brown in color but unlimited as to style and cut.

The subject of Senior Court was discussed and a committee composed of Grover Creech, Emery Frazier and G. F. Martin was appointed by Dabney to have an interview with President McVey concerning the matter.

DEMOCRATS TO MEET IN CHAPEL FRIDAY

Former Lieutenant Governor to Address Members of Club.

Hon. Edward J. McDermott, of Louisville, formerly Lieutenant Governor of Kentucky, will make the opening speech of the year to the Democratic Club of the University Friday night at 8 o'clock in the chapel. He will be introduced by Colonel Ronald C. Oldham, of Winchester.

Mr. McDermott is known to the Democrats of the State as a leading attorney and the member of the Constitutional Convention of 1891 who drafted the greater part of the present Constitution. He was Lieutenant Governor under Governor James B. McCreary and candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor four years ago.

All men and women of the University who are interested in political principles and issues are invited to hear Mr. McDermott. The club will elect officers for the year at a meeting to be held in the near future, as the president, Marcus Redwine, of Sandy Hook, and the vice-president, J. J. McBrayer, of Lawrenceburg, were graduated last year.

MAJOR TUCKER GIVES POINTERS TO R.O.T.C.

Gives Advantages of Military Training to the College Man

APPOINTMENT OF OFFICERS DEFERRED

With an enrollment far in excess of previous years' work in military science has begun on the University campus and already the commands of the embryonic officers can be heard above the noise of band practice. Work in this branch this year promises to excel that of former years because so many men who have had service in the army have returned to show the Freshmen and Sophomores how things were done in the more or less great war now conceded to have ended.

Under a recent ruling students who have had previous service may be enrolled in the advanced course providing the commandant accepts the past record of the aspirant. Credit will be given for third and fourth year work, a total of eight credits for the completion of the outlined course. Heretofore commutation of subsistence, amounting to ten or twelve dollars the month, was all that the third and fourth year men received for his work. Military science for Freshmen and Sophomores is compulsory under the arrangement of the War Department.

The cadet corps this year is under command of Major A. S. J. Tucker, veteran of the war who saw active European service with the Sixteenth

SOCIETIES BEGIN WORK WITH FIRST MEETINGS

Freshmen Urged to Join Clubs They're Interested In

The first meeting of the Union Literary Society will be held Saturday night at 7 o'clock in the Union rooms on the third floor of the Gymnasium Building. Officers will be elected for the year and Professor Muba will speak. All new men are invited.

The History Club held its first meeting of the year, Monday night, September 2, in Dr. Tuthill's room in the Administration Building. Election of officers was held at this time. Earl Conkright was elected president and R. W. Owens, secretary. Mr. Owens is to select two assistants to arrange a schedule for the year. Captain Bradley then gave an interesting account of his experiences in the war. After the meeting had adjourned, light refreshments were served.

The Philosophian Literary Society held its opening meeting Wednesday night at Patterson Hall. Plans for the year were discussed.

The first meeting of the Romance Language Club will be held Monday night at 7:15 in Mr. Zembrod's room in the Administration Building. Plans for the year will be discussed at this time.

The first meeting of the Rafinesque Club was held Wednesday evening, September 24, in the Botany Lecture Room of the Science Building. The purpose of the meeting was the election of officers. The officers elected are: Lora Lee Robinson, president; (Continued on Page 2)

DEMAND FOR ENGINEERS AT HEIGHT, SAYS McVEY.

President Tells Students Present is Age Demanding Trained Men

"This is the age of engineering and the demand for trained engineers is at its height," President Frank L. McVey told students of the College of Engineering in his address on "What is an Engineer?" last Friday afternoon.

No other profession can claim pre-eminence in this age so distinctly, President McVey said, in comparing the engineering feats of the past with those of the present. Among those of former days he named the pyramids, the hanging gardens of Babylon and the ancient canals, compared to the Panama Canal, the railroad over Andes Mountains, the tuber under the Hudson river and other modern achievements.

President McVey was introduced by Dean F. Paul Anderson, of the College of Engineering, and in the beginning of his talk gave his definition of an engineer as follows:

"An engineer is a man who applies the branches of science to wield the energies of nature and direct them to the service of man."

"Y" MEETINGS TO BE HELD SUNDAY NIGHT

A meeting of the Y. W. C. A. will be held Sunday evening at 6:45 o'clock in the recreation hall of Patterson Hall. Each member of the cabinet is to outline her work for the coming year, and Miss Mary Campbell Scott, of Lexington, will sing.

The membership campaign for the Y. W. C. A. will begin next Monday and it is hoped that this year will be the biggest in the history of the organization.

Dr. John J. Tigert, who has returned to the University after a year of war work overseas, will speak at the meeting of the Y. M. C. A. next Sunday evening at 6:45 o'clock in the rooms of the Y. M. C. A. Previous to his experience overseas Dr. Tigert was connected with the University Y. M. C. A. for several years. All the boys are urged to be present at the meeting and a large attendance is expected.

COMMANDMENTS APPLY TO UNIVERSITY LIFE

Dr. McVey Discusses Fundamentals at Joint
"Y" Meeting

The first joint meeting of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. was held in the recreation hall at Patterson Hall Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. Dr. McVey was the speaker of the evening.

Miss Emma Willis Roe, Assistant Superintendent of Music in the Public Schools, accompanied by Mr. Parsons, of New York, rendered a beautiful vocal solo. Miss Katherine Denton and Miss Catherine Reed furnished delightful music with violin and flute. The meeting was presided over by Mr. Jesse Tapp, president of the Y. M. C. A.

Dr. McVey in addressing the students said: "I shall speak on something large because I have the feeling that the students of the University are the men and women of the future who are to guide the destinies of the Commonwealth. I attended a meeting in Louisville last week to draft some of the fundamentals of capital and labor, and see if I could present some document to bring men to consideration of things that existed in human nature."

"The attitude of men toward present happenings is not what it should be. Men leave their employers without notice, and let the employers meet the situation as best they can. The difficulties are not all on one side. The laborer thinks he is entitled to compensation because it costs so much to live, regardless of his own value. The people are too extravagant; they are not looking into the future. The war will have a stupendous effect on commercial relations. It will mark a line more clearly between the past and the future than the discovery of America by Columbus."

WOMEN'S FRATERNITIES CLOSE RUSHING SEASON

Thirty-six Prospective Members of Greek World Put on Ribbons

PLEDGE DAY TUESDAY

On Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock, the Women's Fraternities of the University, Alpha Gamma Delta, Alpha Xi Delta, Chi Omega, Kappa Delta and Kappa Kappa Gamma, closed their rushing season by pinning their respective ribbons on thirty-six prospective members of the Greek letter world.

Every year, the first few weeks of school are set aside for the fraternities to engage in friendly rivalry for the favor of certain young Freshmen and other new students who give promise of developing into Greek letter women. This year, Panhellenic decided to "bury the hatchet" one week earlier than usual, much to the relief of tolerant college professors and members of the Student Government Council of Patterson Hall, and September 30 was chosen as the day on which the rites should be performed. Tuesday night, members of rival fraternities began to smile freely once more at one another and to display their ability to be good losers as well as happy winners.

The following pledges are announced by the fraternities of their choice:

Alpha Gamma Delta.

Elisabeth Coko, Marion; Lucile Moore, Marion; Jesse Frye Moore, Cynthiana; Anna Mae Dawson, Cynthiana; Jeanette Welsh, Nicholasville; Helen Porter Roberts, Lexington.

Alpha Xi Delta.

Dorothy Blatz, Louisville; Betty Brown, Sharpsburg; Anna Jean Smith, Lexington; Margaret Bailey, Adairville; Eleanor Cammack, Lexington; Georgia Lee Murphy, Mayfield.

Chi Omega.

Sara Metcalf Piper, Carlisle; Elizabeth Allen, Annabelle Hall, Maysville; Mona Saunders, Emma Lee Young, Fannie Summers Tarlton, Lexington; Virginia Griffith, Ghent; Louise M'Kee, Richmond; Eugenia Young, Norfolk.

Kappa Delta.

Myrtle Clar, Louisville; Clara Blocher, Owensville; Arabelle Erlich, Ludlow; Louise Connell, Paris; Beulah (Continued on Page 8)

PROMINENT STUDENTS DOING NOTABLE WORK

South Africa Calls Popular Men to Experimental Fields—Journalists Well Placed

Among former widely known students and graduates of the University of the Classes of 1919 and recent years, who are holding prominent positions in foreign fields and who are reported to be successfully located are H. W. Taylor, who has accepted a position as tobacco expert for Rhodesia; W. B. Wilson, Lagrange, who accepted a position as tobacco expert for Ceylon; J. du P. Oosteeuizen, who has been promoted to the position of Assistant Chief of the Tobacco and Cotton Division and Manager of the Rustenburg Experiment Station, Union of South Africa; P. Koch, promoted to the position of manager of the Turkish Tobacco Experiment Station, Elsenburg, Union of South Africa.

Graduates and students of journalism who are holding prominent positions on staffs of Lexington dailies, are John Marsh and Wayne Cottingham, on the repertorial and editorial staff of the Lexington Leader, and G. M. Pedley, city editor of the Lexington Herald. Four graduates of the Class of '19 are holding positions with the Lexington Herald. They are: Eliza M. Piggott, State editor; Thornton Connell, political writer; Frederick M. Jackson, commercial writer; Bessie T. Conkwright, repertorial staff; Ruth Thomas, society editor of the Lexington Herald, and Sigsby Sherwood, former student, are also on the repertorial staff of the Herald.

Captain Herbert Graham, 1916, recently returned from service in France, where he taught the latter days of European occupation in the Department of Journalism in the A. E. F. University, is now connected with the Frankfort State Journal in the news and editorial departments and has recently been assigned to work on the editorial columns of that paper which he is doing with marked ability. Graham was a fellow in journalism in 1917.

NEW FACULTY MEMBERS ENJOYABLY ENTERTAINED.

Woman's Club Gives Delightful Party at Home of Dr. McVey.

The faculty of the University was given a delightful opportunity to meet and welcome its new members when the Woman's Club of the University entertained in their honor last Friday evening at the President's House on the Campus.

Dr. McVey, in a short speech of welcome, expressed his hope that the coming year would be happy and harmonious and that for faculty as well as for students it would be successful and profitable.

Professor Carl Lampert, accompanied by Mrs. Lampert, added to the pleasure of the evening by playing several charming selections on the violin.

Mrs. McVey was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. P. P. Boyd, Miss Florence Barret, Miss Linda Purnell. Delicious refreshments of ices, cakes, bon bons and coffee were served.

FRESHMAN ENGINEERS ORGANIZE SOCIETY

At a meeting, in Chapel Monday afternoon, of Freshmen enrolled in the College of Engineering, a Freshmen society was formed, which elected H. D. Brailsford, of Louisville, President; Homer Baker and Leonard Giovannoli, both of Lexington, Vice-President and Secretary, respectively. A committee was appointed to select a name which will be put before the society at some subsequent meeting.

The Freshmen class in Engineering contains nearly one hundred members this year.

NOTICE

The University regulations require that each student taking laboratory work deposit $2.50 to cover breakage. The residue of this amount will be returned at the end of the year.

Thursday, October 3 was set as the day for making deposits with the Business Agent. Be sure to attend to this immediately if you did not do so on the day set.

Cornell and Terrell to Give Lectures in Course on Evolution

The course in evolution which proved so popular last year will be enlarged this year to include the viewpoints of Professors Cornell and Terrell. Doctor Cornell's lectures will probably be on "Habit and Instinct," and "Animal Behavior," while Doctor Terrell will discuss the philosopher's ideas of evolution. The other lectures in the course will be given by Professors Funkhouser, Miller and Shull, who delivered some of the lectures last year. The course has been enlarged to three hours a week and is open to all students in the University.

SOCIETIES BEGIN WORK WITH FIRST MEETING

George Gregory, vice-president; Mina White, secretary; and Lucy Stallings, treasurer.

The Botany Club organized last Spring, has already a large membership. The next meeting will be held Wednesday night, October 8. Anyone interested in Botany is invited to join.

The Horace Mann Literary Society held its first meeting Thursday evening, September 25. Miss Erma Wentzell was elected to the place of Mr. Inman, who was elected president last Spring. E. E. Kelley was made vice-president. After elections, the evening was spent in the discussion of plans for a party to be given in the near future at Patterson Hall, to which all the girls and their friends will be invited.

The Agricultural Society met Monday evening, September 29 in the Agriculture Building. The officers for the coming year were elected. E. G. Godbey was elected president, H. G. Sellards, vice-president, Mary Adams, secretary, Clyde Bland, treasurer, and Joe Gail, sergeant-at-arms. After election, the publication of the "Rural Kentuckian" was generally discussed. At this time a committee was appointed to meet with the girls of the Home Economics Club to discuss the merging of the two societies. The next meeting of the Society will be held next Monday evening.

ORGANIZATIONS NOTICE TO ALL U. K. STUDENTS.

Last Spring, at the request of President McVey, representatives of every organization, society, fraternity, club and class at the University were called together for the purpose of perfecting a body to be known on the campus as the Student Social Committee. A representative from each of these organizations was elected and these members constitute the committee. R. Smith Park was elected chairman. The following is a self-explanatory notice which will be of interest to every student in the University.

Important Notice.

All fraternities, societies, clubs, classes and similar organizations who desire to give social functions during the present year are requested to secure application blanks from Dean Melcher. These blanks must be filled out and returned to Dean Melcher not later than October 8, 1919. It is absolutely necessary that those desiring a date for any activity make immediate application for same as the social calendar for the entire year is to be arranged on the above named date.

R. S. PARK,
Chairman Student Social Committee.

Schedule Matriculation Lectures Announced

The College of Arts and Science announces matriculation lectures for 1919-20 as follows:

Oct. 4—Professor Noe, "How to Study."

Oct. 11—Professor Noe, "How to Study."

Oct. 18—Dean Melcher, "The Freshman and His Friends."

Oct. 25—Dean Simrall, "Social Life."

Nov. 1—Professor Pryor, "Health and Hygiene."

Nov. 8—Professor Boles, "Exercise."

Nov. 15—Professor Tigert, "The Students' Religion."

Nov. 22—Professor Mable, "Literary Society, Debate and Oratory."

Nov. 29—Professor Lampert, "Music, Band, Orchestra."

Dec. 13—Professor Shull, "Science in Education."

Jan. 10—Professor Best, "Sociology or Education for Service."

Jan. 17—Professor Terrell, "The Course as a Whole."

Professor Lampert will provide five minutes of music to precede each lecture.

Work in the Red Cross under Dr. Best is picking up and gaining favor rapidly. Home Service work is one of the strong features.

"Students must realize and have thoughts of the difficulties the world is confronting. These difficulties can only be met and solved as we grasp the situation. Too much emphasis is placed on money and business. Money isn't the ultimate end of human progress and industry. The essential thing is patience of men toward each other.

"The fundamentals that appeal for a better understanding on the part of men one for another are expressed in the commandments. First, Thou Shalt Not Steal. Money and property are the most obvious forms, but the student's stealing time or the laborer's not returning to the employer the full result of what he ought to give are also violations of this law. Commonplace, old-fashioned honesty must return to the world.

CENTER NOT OUR ONLY FOE.

In animated tones in college halls, on campus and street corners, students and fanciers of gridiron sport are discussing football prospects of the Wearers of the Blue.

University spirit, that indescribable thing which thrills and tugs at the heart strings of every loyal supporter of the Wildcats at this time each recurring Autumn is beginning to re-assert itself after lying dormant to some degree throughout the rigors of war and trials of the S. A. T. C.

Emerging from the shadow of gloom cast early in September by apparent lack of material, Stoll Field is lit up again by the sun of promised success in the presence of many stalwart athletes who are expected to maintain "Old State's" prestige and to wipe out one or two scores—scores, literally speaking, chalked up on the wrong side of the board, which brings us to the main topic of discussion—the predominant thought in the minds of all Kentucky students just now, the goal which is urging football candidates to utmost exertion—the Centre game.

The Colonels are confident they will more than equal their victory of 1917. They are confident the contest to be played at Danville, November 15, can end in one way only, that is, with another Centre victory; and there is more than reasonable basis for such confidence. True, Server, Combs, Clements, Heick, the Downing boys, Hite, Green, Gay and others who make their adherents glad, are out there working. But Kentucky's football team is yet an unknown quantity. There is much to be done before a well regulated machine is ready to match its prowess with all contenders.

Danger too lurks ahead. In fact, present now. Too much attention to a single game scheduled, no matter how important that game may be, frequently brings disaster in other contests.

For who is Centre that we should devote our entire attention to defeating her warriors? A rival of old, truly a worthy rival in days gone by, now staging a come-back with the aid of the greatest football team she has ever had. But too, a rival whose foemen for several years, from the time Lee Guyn defeated her with his memorable drop kick from the forty-five yard line on a muddy field in 1911, until in 1917, when she won a 3 to 0 victory, were not worthy of our steel.

Who indeed is Centre?

When the proper time comes our Wildcats shall make a mighty effort to settle 1917's defeat in full. Meanwhile we do not fear the outcome of that hour.

But there is other business at hand—pressing business it is too. Indiana, Vanderbilt, Tennessee, Sewanee and Ohio State are to be dealt with. The blue banner must not be dragged down, no matter how mighty the foe. Victory won from any of the institutions mentioned means far more to the glory of the University of Kentucky than shall the defeat of Centre, no matter how jubilant we shall be when the latter shall have been accomplished.

And so we say; Who is Centre?

With a football schedule ahead that is the most exacting probably ever arranged for a Wildcat team, we can ill afford to waste too much consideration of our friends in Danville, who Dame Rumor says, are worrying little about us in their training for games with the University of Virginia and the University of West Virginia.

Now bring on Georgetown!

DORMITORIES NEXT BIG PROBLEM.

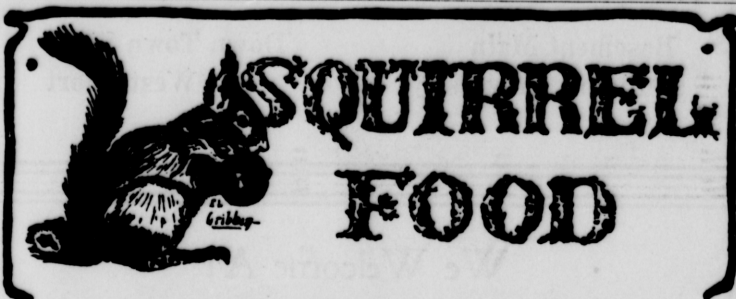

Among the many needs of the University as outlined recently by President McVey in his biennial report to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction is that of a new dormitory for men as well as increased housing facilities for young women in attendance here this year. These are problems that must be solved the next session of the Legislature if the University is to occupy the position it should in the Commonwealth of Kentucky.

The Kernel emphatically favors the erection of a new dormitory or dormitories. It congratulates President McVey upon the stand he has taken in this matter and wishes him success when he goes before the Legislature next January to voice this urgent need of the University. Appropriations last session were inadequate and additional funds are necessary. The old dormitories, which have been remodelled to provide class rooms to meet the need of increased instruction, were for years eyesores to the campus. It was a good step in advance when they were overhauled.

Men students this year are living out in town. Patterson Hall and two buildings used as annexes are crowded and many young women are living in town. This matter should be remedied soon or the enrollment of the University will be materially cut down. It is known that many young men and women of Kentucky would come to the University to prosecute their studies if proper housing facilities and chaperonage were assured. Unusually high room rent rates in private homes keep many with limited funds from school and thus work incalculable damage to the cause of higher education in the State.

The dormitory question should not be looked upon as calling for expenditure of money by the State that will redound to no good. Reasonable rent for such buildings soon would pay for them and it would not be a great many years until they should be on a paying basis. Let us hope that the Legislature will see this need and act.

The Kentucky Kernel says: "It's no use, suh, we've got to give up this side whiskers fad; the young girls, suh, have gone to wearing them over their ears."

A HUNG JURY.

He stood at the bar of justice,
Sober, but with a jag;
He chewed upon a plug of sweet,
His lawyers chewed the rag.

"Oh, gentlemen of the jury,
My client's song is sung;
Don't let him hang for this offense;
Announce that you are hung!"

The Old Soldier here interpolates the following: One wonders what should have happened when war was declared and so many of our patriotic ball players and ship builders wired the President that they were at his service and awaiting assignment if Woodrow had wired back: "You're on. Report to nearest recruiting station."

LIVE AND LEARN.

In the region of Pskov the weather at this season of the year is very cold.

Donald Dinning, philosopher of the Journalism Department, says: "I've seen many a young fellow who could smile in the face of death or stolidly refuse to laugh at his professor's jokes but I have never seen one yet who could look placid in a class room filled with girls with his collar loose behind."

IN MEMORY OF YE OLDE WHISTLE

O, How I miss you every morn, dear old pal o' mine,

'Twas your gentle tone, that lifted me
From my slumbers most sublime.
You announced to us a day of work
With the rising of the sun
And cheerfully you told to us
When our day's work was done.
For years your expended energy
Has been a source of delight

Freshmen. We are forced to admit the failure of the press to stop this barbarous and questional process of benevolent elimination.

No, dear Professor, the evenly lined sentences (sometimes found in this column are not poetry. Respect for the canine family even makes one hesitate to call it doggerel.

* * * *

The Knight of the Lexington Drug made a grab for the check after he was sure that the other fellow already had it securely in his hand and remarked: "The hardest work for some of our law students, it appears, is climbing the three flights of stairs to their studies."

Gazing about the grounds of the University, one is more and more impressed with the number of students who are, to all appearances, majoring in campus appreciation.

* * * *

Contributions to this column are welcomed. In fact they're absolutely necessary if Squirrel Food is to be nutty. There is good material in the University if it can be found. All are nutty along some line. The writer, who at present still further afflicts the helpless with this column, finds other duties so pressing that work will have to be suspended. This together with detail of less importance, a letter from the editor of the Kernel carrying the more or less significant statement that Squirrel Food was supposed to be humorous, prompts the recipient of these sanguinary remarks to seek other fields of livelihood. Of course this is a mere detail and has nothing to do with the real issue. The writer being a more or less irresponsible sort of person will gladly take credit for anything humorous that may inadvertently appear in this column; in some instances he may give credit to the real writer but not if there is a possibility of his claiming it as his own. If you hear something amusing that is publishable at all and as well as humorous write it down and in the dark of the moon throw it over your left shoulder into the Kernel office.

And presently abscond,—
But Oh! how sweet revenge will be
When they have crossed the pond.

MAJOR TUCKER GIVES POINTERS TO R. O. T. C.

Infantry, First Division. He wears two gold stripes for wounds received in service. A strenuous course has been outlined for this year under his supervision.

Selection of the commissioned and non-commissioned personnel for the cadet corps has been deferred for several weeks until the best men can be selected for the places; all men are "on their toes" during drill and competition for places from corporal to major is exceedingly keen.

Orders similar to those of former years have been issued regarding attendance at drill and students cutting this work will be required to make up double time on Saturday afternoons for every hour missed. In case of sickness single time will be made up. Major Tucker is assisted by regular army non-commissioned officers who will have charge of the special work on Saturday afternoons and assist in the instruction of the new men.

At the opening meeting of the cadet corps Major Tucker outlined the work that would be taken up this year. He said in part: "Upon the commencement of this year's course I am taking the opportunity to meet you informally and discuss with you some of the features of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps to the end that you may better understand the object and purpose of the R. O. T. C. and that we may better understand each other. Briefly, from the standpoint of the War Department, the object is to develop through systematic training of officers for the Army Reserve Corps who may be called to the colors in an emergency.

"In the late war it was the college man who responded and in the future, if occasion should arise, it will be again the college man who goes to the front. I, therefore, wish to urge upon you the desirability of pursuing your course to completion so that you can qualify for a commission for which your brain and training qualify you.

"Military training has many advantages quite apart from consideration of military service. Its beneficial results are well understood in the matter of physical development, organized effort and inculcating a wholesome spirit of patriotism and a manly respect for constituted authority. From the educational standpoint, I might add, that the scope of the course has been considerably broadened and should prove more interesting than in the past. The successful completion of two years of military work is requisite to graduation in every course in the University."

FIGHTING WILDCATS READY TO SPRING

Pre-Season Dope Indicates That Kentucky Eleven Will Be Best in Recent Years

Business has certainly "picked up" on Stoll Field during the past week. Those who had picked a promising little squad for 1919 Kentucky Varsity men have all their work to do over, for since the first roster of candidates was taken the personnel in the football perspective has entirely changed. Men who would easily have "made" the team as it stood ten days ago now haven't a ghost of a chance against the old stars who have, one by one, dropped in on the Wildcat camp.

Students are all happy over the bright prospects for a string of victories for "Old Kentucky." Broad grins on happy faces lengthen when the fans go out on Stoll Field to watch the "big boys" at practice. Each day on the gridiron brings increased hopes to the Kentucky fans. The material for Coach Gill's Victory Eleven is all in now and all that remains to be done is to whip the squad into a perfect machine.

The new squad is composed of a heavy bunch of old-time Wildcat scrappers,—of the Doc Rodes type. Most of the late returners are antebellum Wildcat stars.

The situation as it stands is that Coach Gill has more than a score of experienced and seasoned football players, many of them outstanding stars, and all of them excellent prospects, but he faces the grim realization that he must build up a powerful football machine in a short time.

Kentucky's line, averaging nearly 200 pounds, would be a pride to any college team in the country. From end to end the players are of the fast, aggressive, hard-hitting, sledge hammer type that go out to win. For center Coach Gill has his choice of Clements or Kelley; for guards he has Thompson, Boyd, Downing and Baugh; for tackles he has Server, Heick, Combs, Murphree, Colpitts; and for the end positions he has Dishman, Green, Haber, Zerfoss, Clark, Downing and Burnham. Besides these men there are a great number of Freshmen and other candidates who aspire to positions in the Wildcat line.

For the backfield positions there are a number of old men of experience and fame. Paul Hite, quarterback, Shanklin, Gus Gay, "Brudge" Walker, all veteran candidates for the halves, and Tribble and McIlvain, for the position of fullback. Lavin, Fuller, Wilhelm, Muth, Culp and Bayless are promising candidates for the Varsity halfback positions.

To a great number of the students many of the old-time Wildcat stars are yet strangers, and all of the new men need an introduction to the Kentucky fans, therefore the Kernel adds a few paragraphs of "close-ups" of Kentucky Wildcat material for the 1919 Victory Eleven.

"Tony" Dishman, a third year Wildcat, is captain of the 1919 squad, and is a fast end. At present he is recovering from a slight bone fracture in his left foot, and will probably be out of the first game.

"Fats" Clements, center, is getting into good shape. He has suffered a strained shoulder muscle and probably will not play in the Georgetown game. He is a Wildcat with an excellent record.

Jim Server, right tackle with the team of 1916, and later with a regimental team, weighs 185 pounds and is a terror to the opposing line. Although he has had only a week of training he is howling up exceptionally well.

John Combs, from Nicholasville, who made a reputation as tackle for the Great Lakes Naval Team, was wanted by every college team in the State, but he wisely decided to cast his lot with Wildcats.

McIlvain, a husky with two seasons on the Kentucky gridiron behind him, making quite a name for himself in 1916, is back at his old position at fullback and is showing up well.

"Shorty" Heick can use his 190 pounds at either guard or tackle to a great advantage to the squad. He is now making a fast player at tackle. His appearance on the field brightened Kentucky possibilities considerably.

Paul Hite, one time star halfback on Wildcat team, and member of the Newport Naval Service Team, is now demonstrating his excellent field leadership and knowledge of the game at the position of quarterback.

"Ty" Green, a Freshman hailing from a Massachusetts prep school, shows excellent form at the end positions, and is going to give somebody a run for his money. He is unusually fast.

John Heber, captain of the 1918 Wildcats, adds another veteran candidate for end, and he adds considerable speed and strength to the Wildcat line.

Wildcats Stack Up Against Georgetown Saturday—Accidents Alter the Lineup

The Wildcat is ready to spring!

Eight eager foes are lined up ready to attack the Kentucky Wildcats and attempt to make the loyal defenders of the Blue and White haul down their flag bow before and acknowledge defeat. Shall it be so? We'll say NO!

Bring on Georgetown!

The question is not "Can we beat Georgetown Saturday," but it's "Can we whitewash them?" The Georgetown Tigers will meet the Kentucky Wildcats on Stoll Field Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the opening game of the 1919 football season.

Kentucky fans are eager to know just how strong the Wildcat machine is at present. The writer believes that the squad is by no means in its prime, nor is it a perfectly working machine, yet it will easily handle anything that the Tigers from Georgetown can offer Saturday, and then, with additional training and practice, can take care of the rest of the schedule without discomfort. In other words, the Kentucky team needs teamwork which is an absolute necessity to championship teams, and that is expected to come with each day's practice.

Coach Andy Gill has a wonderful squad of huskies having all the weight and experience necessary, and they are expected to play high class football Saturday. Despite the fact that odds are greatly in favor of the Kentucky squad, yet it is going into this first fray at considerable disadvantage. Quite a number of the fastest men will be out of the game because of slight accidents. Captain Dishman's injured foot hasn't healed sufficiently to permit his playing. "Fats" Clements is suffering from a strained shoulder and will probably be replaced by Kelley at center. Shanklin will be out of this game because of a slight injury received during a recent scrimmage. "Bud" Slomer will be out for another week because of a twisted shoulder, and "Jimmie" Wilhelm is not available for this game on account of an injured shoulder.

But, despite these unfortunate circumstances, a stronger line and a faster backfield will meet the Tigers Saturday than has faced them in years. If the team receives the united support of the entire University it is sure of a great victory. The entire student body, the faculty, the stenographers and the janitors will all be out to see the Wildcats open the season with a good licking for the Tigers from Georgetown.

FRESH V. SOPHOMORES IN FIRST CLASS GAME

The first inter-class football game will be played on Stoll Field Friday, October 10. The Freshman and Sophomore elevens will clash next week in an effort to win football honors. Members of both classes are expected to be present en masse, and to support their respective teams with cheers, songs and yells. Come out and show your class spirit! How about it, girls?

JUNIOR CLASS NOTICE

There will be an important meeting of the Junior Class Wednesday, October 8, in Chapel the fifth hour. Officers for the year will be elected.

CLASS TEAMS SHOWING FORM; OWENS COACH

During the past week "Daddy" Boles has been making rapid progress with the class football teams. Good material from all four classes has shown up and prospects for a fine series of class games seem excellent.

In the next issue a complete and detailed account of the organization and doings of the four class teams will be published. So far boys with bald heads are the only ones to have a completely organized team. Under the leadership of Coach Owens, of the Y. M. C. A., Captain Turner Gregg and Manager "Gibby" Smith great things are to be expected of the Kittens. The squad has worked out together several times but up to date no announcement of the regular lineup has been made by Coach Owens. It is understood however that Gregg will play at quarter and Smith at center. Following is a list of the names of the men coming out for practice:

Arthur Shanklin's wonderful playing record speaks for itself. He is holding his place at halfback alongside men of much more size and weight. He is a good open field runner and adds speed to the backfield, an asset much to be desired in the present Wildcat machine.

Gus Gay, a "K" halfback, is back in the game again, and is improving with each day's training. He has the height and weight and will carry the ball for many lengthy gains before the season is over.

"Brudge" Walker is another backfield man who has a record in the past past an dis destined to do even greater things for Old Kentucky than ever before. He is every ounce a man, despite his rather low stature, and is a safe tackler.

Eger Murphree, known for three years to Kentucky football fans as "Old Murph," is at his old place at tackle and is in excellent condition for the season approaching. He adds 190 pounds to the Wildcat line.

George Zerfoss, the Kentucky athlete wearing "K's" in football, basketball and baseball, is giving the other candidates a good race for Varsity end. He is fast and dependable.

One of the most promising Freshmen is Tribble, who has all the physical requirements of a dandy football player and who has been stationed at full back with the Varsity during many of the scrimmages this Fall.

"Red" Culp, a Freshman from Louisville Manual Training High School, is showing the form of a college veteran at halfback and is nearly certain to wear the coveted "K" when the storm of the battles is over.

"Bud" Slomer, the big boy who thrilled the Kentucky fans with his spectacular pitching last Spring and who amused them between innings by letting the ball bounce off his head, is going to use that same hard head to butt some opponent in the football line. He represents 180 pounds of bone and muscle that is a welcome addition to the Wildcat line.

There are many other promising candidates of whom it is impossible to speak at length in this issue of the Kernel. Big Kelley is sure of his turn at center. "Dutch" Burnham is a promising candidate for end. Bobby Lavin is a "little but loud" candidate for one of the halves or quarter. "Fats" Thompson, Ineman, and Bruce Fuller, Jimmie Wilhelm, Bland and Faulkner, backfield men, are giving the old men a race for the positions. Boyd, a Freshman of the "Server" type, is a candidate for a line position, and the boys say he is sure to "make" the team. Bayless is an old Lexington High man who promises to soon hold down a position in the Wildcat backfield.

In addition to these men Coach Gill has a squad of first year men and scrubs, several of whom probably will make the old-timers hustle for regular places in the Victory Eleven lineup.

Albert D'Scheu Haberstro, Basso Cantant E and Teacher of Singing at The College of Music, West Second street, Lexington, will give a program of song, oratorio, operatic, post-war and secular. Mr. Haberstro will be accompanied on the piano by Leland Snoddy of the University. University students are cordially invited. Recital begins at 8:15 p. m., Monday evening, October 6th, 1919.

Why Not Trade Here

—BECAUSE—

The selection of suitable drug store goods is better here than usual for the very simple reason that not only do we stock practically anything and everything that any drug store anywhere could offer you, but we arrange and display them in such a way as to make selection easy, rapid and satisfactory. The quality of everything we sell is high-grade. True, there are medium priced and low-priced goods, but value for value, price for price, there are better offerings here than elsewhere. When the question of drugs is considered there is but one quality and that is the highest that science can produce.

ABOUT THE CAMPUS

Miss Katherine W. Owens, who for several years has wielded the pen that has caused so many of the student body to pay regular and periodical visit to the Registrar's office to explain their absences from class, has accepted a position with a real estate firm in Lexington and assumed her duties last Monday. She is succeeded by Mrs. H. H. Scribner.

E. M. Prewitt and J. R. Dawson, who are doing extension work in dairying under the direction of Prof. J. J. Hooper, have just returned from trips throughout Kentucky. Mr. Prewitt has, within the last ten days, procured the names of 214 of the 250 members required to form a cow testing association in Campbell county.

G. W. Forster is a new man in the Department of Farm Management. Mr. Forster did his collegiate work at Cornell, Class of '14, and received the Master's Degree at Michigan three years later.

The class in advanced Farm Management, composed of Juniors and Seniors, visited the farm of W. R. Stone in Jessamine County Tuesday. The visit was the first one of a series of weekly trips which have been inaugurated by Prof. W. D. Nichols, head of the department.

Prof. C. W. Mathews, Department of Horticulture; Miss Sweeney, Department of Economics; and Miss McChesney, State leader, have returned from a four days trip to the Pine Mountain Settlement School, Harlan County. Earl Mayhew, Class of '17, is the county agent of Harlan county and is doing good work. Miss Sweeney says it was a hard trip, the last six miles being via "nag," but all of them have now recovered.

Prof. C. D. Killebrew, Department of Physics, has entered the University of Michigan, where he will begin work toward securing an advanced degree in Physics.

Friends of Capt. John F. Loomis, who, prior to receiving his commission in the army, taught in the Physics Department, is now a commissioned officer in the Regular Army and is stationed in Panama. His address is John F. Loomis, Capt. Regular Army, Coast Artillery, Fort Amador, Canal Zone, Panama.

Prof. W. S. Webb has heard from M. J. Kelley and R. E. Bitner, who until recently were in the Department of Physics. Mr. Kelley is doing work as research chemist with the General Electric Company, Schenectady, New York, and Mr. Bitner is in the Government Service as Radio Engineer, Washington, D. C.

Prof. J. J. Hooper, Department of Dairying, has received a telegram asking him to officiate as judge of dairy cattle at the Mississippi-Alabama Fair, which is to be held at Meridian, Miss., October 6-10. Professor Hooper judged their cattle last year but owing to the fact that he will be at the National Dairy Show, Chicago, he will be unable to accept the invitation.

Dean Thomas J. Cooper, College of Agriculture, is in receipt of information from the Secretary of Agriculture, Prateria, South Africa, that two students will be sent to the University as students in our College of Agriculture. These two young men, P. F. van der Watt and Victor F.

Oliver are picked students and will be sent on government scholarships awarded by the South African government. It is not known just when they will arrive.

An experiment is being conducted at the tobacco barns, on the Experiment Station Farm, in the firing of tobacco. Coal and damp sawdust are the materials used and the results of this experiment, if successful, will prove beneficial especially to growers of Western Kentucky where no other methods of curing the "weed" can be practiced and will revolutionize the methods of firing.

McClarty Harbison, Class of '17, after graduation went to France but returned recently, has entered the real estate business in Lexington.

Two years ago our University held proof of the adage, "The world is growing younger and wiser" when Roy Farmer, Midway, matriculated and entered the Freshman class at the age of fifteen, but now we will have to give up to Harvard, since that institution boasts of a thirteen years old Freshman in the person of Jacob Schankman.

People on both sides of Main street will be sorry to hear that "Happy" Chandler, Corydon, Kentucky, aspirant to the position of end on the Crimson team, suffered severe injury to his left hand last Monday.

Old "Kentucky" men are finding their way back to Lexington this year. William J. (Piggy) Sanford, '14, who will be remembered partly for his ability as a sprinter, has been elected to the position of Attendance Officer of the public schools and assumed control October 1.

Frederic M. (Freddie) Jackson, Class of '18, is doing fine work in the journalistic field and at present is writing commercial news for the Lexington Herald. He did his collegiate work in the Department of Journalism.

President McVey will address the Upper Kentucky River Educational Association, which meets in Jackson next Friday night.

EDITORS OF UNIVERSITY BULLETIN APPOINTED.

Misses Buckman and Smith Have Complete Charge.

The University Bulletin, which is printed weekly under the direction of the Department of Journalism for the information of students and faculty of the University, will be in the hands of Miss Martha Buckman and Miss Margaret Smith this year.

Miss Buckman is a major Journalism student, who returns to the University this year after an absence of two years. She was formerly a member of the Kernel staff. Miss Smith is also a Sophomore in the Journalism Department. She was an active member of last year's staff.
